

PRIVACY POLICY

Information we collect:

When you fill out the “Contact Us” section of our website, we collect your; name, email, company, phone, and comment.

How we collect information:

We collect information you list in the “Contact Us” section of our website. No other information is collected. We value your privacy, and will only utilize information you willingly supply.

Where this information is stored:

This information is stored within Wix’s firewall protected CRM software. Protecting your information is of the utmost importance to us.

What we do with this information:

We utilize your information for the purpose of contacting you about our services and/or answering any questions you have.

Rights regarding your information:

You may request the destruction of your information at any time. This is your property and we only have the right to contact you when permitted to. Permission is granted through submission of the “Contact Us” section of our website.

Security:

Your information is protected by Wix’s advanced firewall technology. Protecting your information is very important to us. Our company also utilizes top of the line anti-virus/malware protection software, a firewall, intrusion detection software, and complex passwords.

Contacting us:

If for any reason you wish to no longer receive emails or calls from Calo Consulting, please send us an email at ncalo@calo-consulting.com. We can also be reached by phone at 516-389-9595